

Eddie went up and sat on Sam's bed.
"Hello, Sam. My mum told me about Danny's grandad," said Eddie.

Sam rolled over.
"I like Danny's grandad," he said.

"He's a really good man. He used to play a lot of football," Eddie replied. "He even helped me to train when I was a boy. Did you know that?"

"He was coming to see our first match. Now he can't. It's not fair," muttered Sam.
